NOSE:
The warmth of the 2005 season helped ripen the fruit so that the first scent presents a juicy ripe pear followed by hints of caramel. Due to the overabundance of natural minerals found in our soil, there is a hint of flint on the end.

PALATE:
Rich with elegance and a smooth character, this Chardonnay possesses a long finish with complex flavor compents. The sur-lee aging and monthly stirring created lovely mid-palate which is complimented by the pleasant acidity on the finish which will make this wine a great pair for a wide variety of dishes.
