Nose: The 2008 vintage leads with aromas of fresh green apple and bright citrus followed by clean minerality from the Leelanau terroir.

Palate: The first taste will hint toward memories of fresh squeezed lemons. This Pinot Grigio has a medium palate weight followed by a delightfully long finish. It is fermented and stored in stainless steel to keep the citrus flavors vibrant and clean. The balanced acidity will pair well with a number of lighter meals, pastas, seafood, and salads.
