2022 PINOT GRIGIO

LEELANAU PENINSULA | DRY WHITE WINE

Pinot Grigio, also known as Pinot Gris, is a grape variety that thrives on the Leelanau Peninsula. Pinot Grigio belongs to the family of Pinots, which include Pinot Noir, Pinot Blanc, and Pinot Meunier. Good Harbor has one of the largest planting of Pinot Grigio in the state of Michigan. We crop our fruit at a low tonnage per acre which helps attribute to the rich intense fruit flavor our wine possesses.

NOSE

Ripe pear and lemon rind are ever apparent upon smelling the first few swirls around the glass. Linger a little longer and you will pick up hints of the mineral components from the vineyard soil. This bottle is a true expression of Pinot Grigio from the Leelanau Peninsula.

PALATE

Smooth but zesty, this wine will put a smile on your face. The complexities that occur on your palate from the beginning to end are sure to delight your senses. Our 2021 Pinot Grigio has a full mid-palate followed with balanced acidity and a wonderful long finish. The rich creamy texture of this wine is a result of careful vineyard management throughout the growing season. We suggest pairing this wine with light pastas, salads, and light meats.
